Said a visitor to the writer, the other day, yes, we replied but it is regular, being nothing unusual to attract the crowds.

One of our sales ladies said yesterday, "how nice it is to be busy; I just feel that I would like to stay here and not go on my vacation." With such a combination feeling of customers and employees together with the stores determination to give the best goods the markets of the world affords at the lowest possible cost, consistent with good qualities and a perfected service. It is no surprise to us by this carefully planned policy of making all people, friends and loyal customers of this store.

can buy. When you climb behind the big steering wheel and start the powerful six-cylinder motor purring along you will indeed be "king of the road" and "monarch of all you survey." And this joy and pleasure can all be yours without one cent of cost.

The "10,000 Club" is a most dignified undertaking from every angle. Bear in mind that it is not a circulation scheme. It is not a proposition whereby you must transform yourself into a mere solicitor or canvasser in order to participate. It is a voting campaign and you and your friends and acquaintances all share the pleasure of winning with you.

As evidence of the interest that the public is taking in the "10,000 Club" take a minute of glance over the standings of the various members of tonight's list. You will see that many of them have already started climbing upward. These votes are coming from many different sources all over the field, and members and their friends are taking care that few of the free ten-vote coupons published in each issue of this paper go to waste.
